

Edward Swaine is the Charles Kennedy Poe Research Professor at the George Washington University Law School. He teaches and writes in the areas of international law, foreign relations law, and international antitrust. He has published work in the American Journal of International Law, Columbia Law Review, Duke Law Journal, Harvard International Law Journal, Stanford Law Review, University of Pennsylvania Law Review, Virginia Journal of International Law, and Yale Journal of International Law, and has contributed to a number of edited volumes—including the The Oxford Guide to Treaties. He is the co-author of U.S. Foreign Relations Law: Cases, Materials and Simulations and served as one of the reporters for the American Law Institute's Restatement of the Law (Fourth), Foreign Relations Law of the United States. He is a longstanding member of the Advisory Committee on Public International Law for the U.S. State Department, and previously served as the Counselor on International Law at the State Department.