

Recent Topics in Military Justice

LTJG Stephen Paul

JAGC, U.S. Navy

Lieutenant Junior Grade Stephen Paul is a judge advocate in the Judge Advocate General's Corps, United States Navy. He is assigned to the Regional Legal Service Office, Southeast, in Jacksonville, Florida. Prior to joining the United States Navy, Stephen served as a law clerk for the Honorable David R. Stras of the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit and the Honorable Gregory E. Maggs of the United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces. He was also an associate at the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell. He is a member of the bar of the District of Columbia and the State of New York.

Written Materials Provided at CAAF Website:

- Millhouse, Cooper C. and Paul, Stephen, How to Handle the Truth: Avoiding Improper Sentencing Argument in Courts-Martial, Hofstra L. REV: Vol. 52: Iss. 4, Article 2. (2024).