

Professional Responsibility I:
Legal Ethics & Artificial Intelligence in Our Dual Profession

Major Curtis N. Cranston

Associate Professor, The Judge Advocate General's Legal Center & School
(TJAGLCS)

Major Curtis N. Cranston is an associate professor at The Judge Advocate General's Legal Center and School (TJAGLCS) in Charlottesville, VA. He has an LL.M. from TJAGLCS, a J.D. from Boston College Law School, and a B.S. from the United States Military Academy at West Point. Prior to becoming a judge advocate, he was an Infantry officer at Fort Benning and Joint Base Lewis-McChord. He has also served in various assignments at the Fires Center of Excellence and Fort Sill and TJAGLCS. As a professor at TJAGLCS, MAJ Cranston currently teaches thousands of students annually—from the Army's most senior attorneys and commanders to its most junior judge advocates and paralegals—in diverse practice areas ranging from environmental law, government information practices, artificial intelligence, and professional responsibility to federal-state relations and foreign/deployment claims.

MAJ Cranston is a 2025-2026 LTG (Ret.) James M. Dubik Writing Fellow (a Chief of Staff of the Army initiative under The Harding Project), the Winner of the American Bar Association's 2025 Outstanding Young Military Lawyer Award, and the Winner of the 2024 MG Harold J. "Harry" Greene Award for Acquisition Writing (Innovation Category, awarded by the ASA (ALT)).

Written Materials Provided at CAAF Website:

Brief for Professional Responsibility I: Legal Ethics & Artificial Intelligence in Our Dual Profession