

Plea Agreements Under the UCMJ: A Comparative Service Approach

Colonel E. Dane Horne, JAGC, USAF

Chief, Military Justice Law and Policy Division, United States Air Force

Colonel Dane Horne currently serves as the Chief of the Military Justice Law and Policy Division, Military Justice and Discipline Directorate, Joint Base Andrews, Maryland. He has served in Air Force Judge Advocate General's Corps since May 2008. In his previous assignments, he served as an Assistant Staff Judge Advocate, Area Defense Counsel, Senior Trial Counsel, Senior Defense Counsel, Deputy Staff Judge Advocate, Director of Trial Operations and Chief Circuit Trial Counsel for the Central Circuit of the Air Force Judiciary, and a Wing-level Staff Judge Advocate. Colonel Horne also deployed as an Air Expeditionary Wing Staff Judge Advocate in 2018.

Colonel Horne earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Sport Management from Western Carolina University in 2003 and a Juris Doctor degree from the University of Alabama School of Law in 2008. During his undergraduate and law school studies, Colonel Horne also served as a C-130 Aerospace Maintenance Technician in the North Carolina Air National Guard from 1999 until 2006. During his time in the Guard, he deployed three times in support of OPERATION ENDURING/IRAQI FREEDOM.

Written Materials Provided at CAAF Website:

- Brief for "Plea Agreements under the UCMJ: A Comparative Service Approach" Panel
- Model Plea Agreement for Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard
- Model Plea Agreement for Army
- Plea Agreement for Department of the Air Force